

Evidence

Contents

1	Evidence	2
1.1	Start Screen	2
1.2	Two-Player Match Setup	3
1.3	Two-Player Match	4
1.4	Tournament Setup	5
1.5	Tournament	6
1.6	Validation of Brains and Worlds	7

1 Evidence

1.1 Start Screen

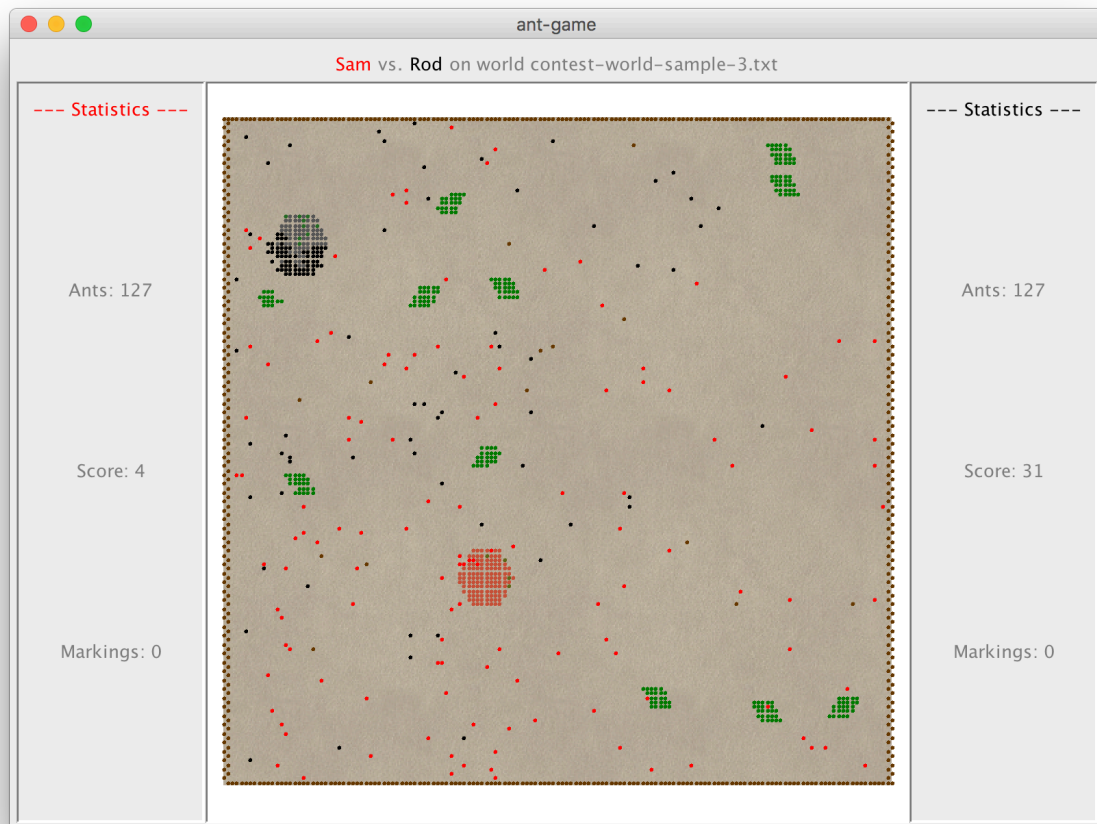

1.2 Two-Player Match Setup

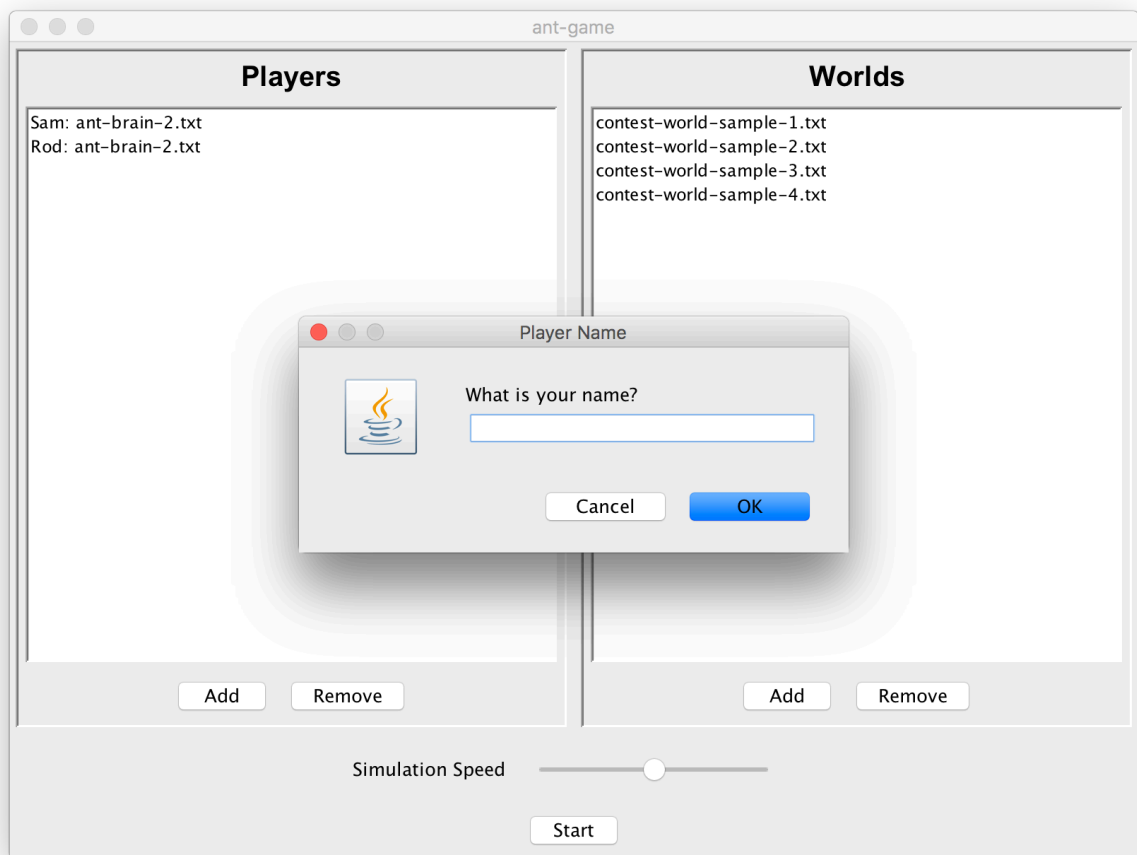

The screenshot shows a window titled "ant-game" with a light gray background. The interface is divided into several sections:

- Red Player Section: Located on the top left, it features the title "Red" in red text. Below it are two buttons: "Set Name" and "Upload Brain".
- Black Player Section: Located on the top right, it features the title "Black" in black text. Below it are two buttons: "Set Name" and "Upload Brain".
- Checklist Section: A central section with the title "Checklist" in bold black text. It contains four status messages:
 - "Name: Sam" in green text on the left.
 - "Name: Rod" in green text on the right.
 - "Brain: uploaded!" in green text on the left.
 - "Brain" in orange text on the right.
 - "World: uploaded!" in green text centered below the other messages.
- Configuration Section: A section below the checklist with the title "Configuration" in bold black text. It contains:
 - A button labeled "Upload Ant-World".
 - A slider control labeled "Simulation Speed" with a blue circular knob positioned towards the right end of the slider.
- Start Button: A single button labeled "Start" is centered at the bottom of the window.

1.3 Two-Player Match

1.4 Tournament Setup

1.5 Tournament

1.6 Validation of Brains and Worlds

